CCAW Fall Update

Your Generosity at Work for Animals in Our Community

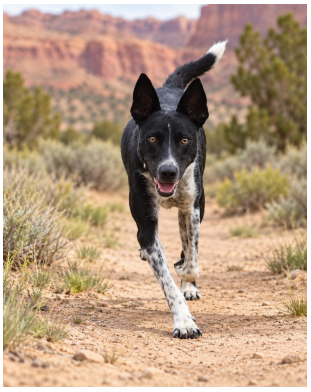

Through our High Desert Big Heart donation campaign and silent auction, friends and supporters from near and far came together for animals in need—and we reached our $15,000 matching goal! Thank you to everyone who gave, bid, or donated auction items and experiences. Your generosity helps keep care available for the animals who depend on CCAW. Special thanks to Don Gomes and Annie Holt with The Old House for providing the $15,000 match and hosting the auction, and to the staff and volunteers who brought it all together. During the event we enjoyed live music by the Capitol Reefers, a local Strut Your Mutt walk, a dog fashion show, and lots of amazing baked treats.

River is ready for her forever family

Found by a hiker on Boulder Mountain, River was starving and barely alive when she came to CCAW in August. Today, she's enjoying adventures on the trail. One of her favorite things to do is cuddle with staff and volunteers who come by the shelter to visit. River is waiting for her forever family, and we hope they come by soon!

Can you even believe it's the same dog? She's now happy and full of energy.

Two tiny kittens and a new beginning

These two tiny kittens were born in a chicken coop in Escalante. After their mom didn't return, a fabulous volunteer brought them to CCAW and an amazing kitten foster helped them through the scary first couple of weeks. Now they are growing and exploring their world - and your support makes that new beginning possible.

A quicker path to a family

Cats at our shelter can wait months and months for a home. Through our partner program with the Humane Society of Utah and the Best Friends Animal Society, we're transferring cats and kittens to the Salt Lake City area, where they can be adopted much more quickly, typically in days. Less time in a shelter and more time with a family is a better outcome for the kitties in our care.

Your Gifts Support Care Happening Now

For a small nonprofit like CCAW, fundraising continues all year because caring for animals does, too. Food, veterinary care, shelter, and daily operations need funding every month. We're still raising the funds needed for this year's budget. Your gift today helps meet today's needs and keeps that care going through the rest of the year. Thank you for being part of the next chapter for so many animals - we can't help them without your support, you make this possible.
